NEW QUESTION: 2

A project manager working for a large city government is required to plan and build a WAN, which will be required to host official business and public access. It is also anticipated that the city's emergency and first response communication systems will be required to operate across the same network. The project manager has experience with enterprise IT projects, but feels this project has an increased complexity as a result of the mixed business / public use and the critical infrastructure it will provide. Which of the following should the project manager release to the public, academia, and private industry to ensure the city provides due care in considering all project factors prior to building its new WAN?

A. RFP

B. RFQ

C. RFI

D. NDA

Answer: C

Explanation:

A request for information (RFI) seeks information from suppliers for a specific purpose. One big difference is that companies and suppliers are not obligated to respond.
