NEW QUESTION: 2

You have been hired as a project manager for Tech Perfect Inc. You are studying the documentation of planning of a project. The documentation states that there are twenty-five stakeholders with the project.

What will be the number of communication channels for the project?

- A. 0
- B. 1
- C. 2
- D. 3

Answer: B

Explanation:

Explanation/Reference:

Explanation:

According to the question, the project has twenty-five stakeholders. Communication channels are paths of communication with stakeholders in a project. The number of communication channels shows the complexity of a project's communication and can be derived through the formula shown below: Total Number of Communication Channels = $n(n-1)/2$ where, n is the number of stakeholders. Hence, a project having five stakeholders will have ten communication channels. Putting the value of the number of stake holder in the formula will provide the number of communication channels: Number of communication channel = (n

$$(n-1) / 2 = (25 (25-1)) / 2 = (25 \times 24) / 2 = 600 / 2 = 300$$

Who are project stakeholders?

Project stakeholders are those entities within or without an organization, which: Sponsor a project or, Have an interest or a gain upon a successful completion of a project. Examples of project stakeholders include the customer, the user group, the project manager, the development team, the testers, etc.

Stakeholders are anyone who has an interest in the project. Project stakeholders are individuals and organizations that are actively involved in the project, or whose interests may be affected as a result of project execution or project completion. They may also exert influence over the project's objectives and outcomes. The project management team must identify the stakeholders, determine their requirements and expectations, and, to the extent possible, manage their influence in relation to the requirements to ensure a successful project.

NEW QUESTION: 3

A non-profit utility company has 900 employees, a majority of whom are hourly employees and must track their time using a paper based process. A few years ago, the Director of Human Resources purchased a software system to eliminate the current paper-based time reporting process. No requirements specific to the utility company were defined prior to the purchase. A team was formed to implement the software. During implementation process, the team discovered the software lacked functionality and was not robust enough to support the general ledger requirements. The company stopped the effort and incurred a $500,000 USD loss on the cost of the software.

This year, the Director of Finance requested that a team investigate the current paper based time reporting process and recommend solutions. The Director of Finance feels that the Director of Human Resources must be involved as a critical stakeholder. The Director of Human Resources is still bitter about the last effort because the process stopped'.

Which of the following is included in performing a stakeholder analysis?

- A. Implement all of the Director of Human Resources suggestions to relieve tension
- B. Recommend excluding the Director of Human Resources as a stakeholder
- C. Develop a risk plan to anticipate negative behavior from the Director of Human Resources
- D. Compare the expertise of the Director of Human Resources to other stakeholders

Answer: D
