NEW QUESTION: 3

Which of the following steps should be one of the first step performed in a Business Impact Analysis (BIA)?

- A. Identify and Prioritize Critical Organization Functions
- B. Evaluate the impact of disruptive events.
- C. Estimate the Recovery Time Objectives (RTO).
- D. Identify all CRITICAL business units within the organization.

Answer: A

Explanation:

Project Initiation and Management

This is the first step in building the Business Continuity program is project initiation and management. During this phase, the following activities will occur:

Obtain senior management support to go forward with the project
Define a project scope, the objectives to be achieved, and the planning assumptions
Estimate the project resources needed to be successful, both human resources and financial resources
Define a timeline and major deliverables of the project
In this phase, the program will be managed like a project, and a project manager should be assigned to the BC and DR domain.
The next step in the planning process is to have the planning team perform a BIA. The BIA will help the company decide what needs to be recovered, and how quickly. Mission functions are typically designated with terms such as critical, essential, supporting and nonessential to help determine the appropriate prioritization.

One of the first steps of a BIA is to Identify and Prioritize Critical Organization Functions. All organizational functions and the technology that supports them need to be classified based on their recovery priority. Recovery time frames for organization operations are driven by the consequences of not performing the function. The consequences may be the result of organization lost during the down period; contractual commitments not met resulting in fines or lawsuits, lost goodwill with customers.

All other answers are incorrect.
