NEW QUESTION: 3

Which of the following is the MOST important information to include in an information security standard?

- A. Author name
- B. Initial draft approval date
- C. Last review date
- D. Creation date

Answer: C

Explanation:

Explanation/Reference:

Explanation:

The last review date confirms the currency of the standard, affirming that management has reviewed the standard to assure that nothing in the environment has changed that would necessitate an update to the standard. The name of the author as well as the creation and draft dates are not that important.
